LMWHA – LOW MOLECULAR WEIGHT HYALURONIC ACID

Low molecular weight hyaluronic acid it's one of the main component of CLINICCARE'S skin care products. It plays an important role in the metabolic processes as a way of interaction and cellular synthesis. It protects the cellular immunity and helps prevent infections. One of the most important features is the ability to retain the moisture up to 1000X more than its own weight.

The major problem with the conventional hyaluronic acid's absorption is the molecular size (on average 3000nm, when the intercellular space has only 100nm in diameter). The Japanese researchers have recently obtained hyaluronic acid with 5nm molecules, which allows it to penetrate the deepest layers of skin without the need of being injected.

For an increased penetration and deep moisturizing effect all CLINICCARE products contain exclusively low molecular weight hyaluronic acid.

Easier and more efficient! The new CLINICCARE professional packages use symbols to easily guide and inform on the advantages and possible uses of each and every particular product.

HAIR CARE

The way you wash your hair and the products you use play a significant role in keeping the hair glowing and soft. The dermatologists give 3 pieces of advice for maintaining the hair healthy.

- #1 – Wash the greasy hair more often. The frequency with which you wash your hair must be determined by the quantity of sebum produced by the scalp.
- #2 – When you wash your hair, insist more on washing and shampooing the scalp rather than washing the hair itself.
- #3 – Use conditioner after every wash. It significantly improves the hairs aspect and brightness while reducing the static electricity and strengthening the hair.
